Around the Corner

IN A RECENT TELEVISION ADdress Mr. Diefenbaker said Canada faced serious economic problems but he saw "some heartening signs on the immediate horizon. As we begin to turn the corner," he added, "Canada will be in a better position than almost any other na-tion to reap the benefits of the economic recovery."

The Prime Minister may well be right in expecting some business im-provement this year since the whole North American economy seems to be working through a cyclical recession and Canada should benefit from better conditions in the United States. It is not so easy to understand why Canada, more than almost any other nation, should benefit from this continental recovery. Anyone who questions such official forecasts is customarily denounced by Mr. Diefenbaker as a "prophet of gloom and doom" but denunciation will not change the facts.

Among these facts are Canada's rate of unemployment, the highest in the Western world and substantialfy higher than that of the United States. As Mr. Diefenbaker will agree, much of this unemployment is built into a distorted economy and will not be cured by any economic improvement conceivable in the early future. Certainly unemployment, whether it be due to cyclical factors or deeper causes, will not be cured or deeper causes, will not be cured and, indeed, none of the nation's economic problems will be cured until the nation's total wealth grows substantially. Growth is the key to all these problems.

The Canadian Gross National

Product, the measurement of growth, increased only 1.5 per cent last year in real terms. At the same time our population increased by 2.1 per cent and our labor force by per cent. In actual fact the national economy was not growing at all per capita and it is the per capita figure that counts. Consider-ing their increased population the Canadian people are not as wealthy

THE RECENT TALKS BE-tween Mr. Macmillan and Mr. Kennedy have apparently resulted in a clarification of their views, and a reaffirmation of the wide measure of agreement on basic policy which exists between the two countries.

We have never suggested here that the decline in Canada's economic growth rate was entirely at-tributable by any means to the policies of the Diefenbaker government. Many factors besides the government's mistakes were at work the same, the government has no reason for satisfaction, especially when it promised a vast improve-ment in business conditions.

The people can judge the gov-ernment's record for themselves. The practical question is where the Canadian economy goes from here. Obviously if we enjoy some cyclical recovery in the next year or two we cannot be satisfied with these automatic gains inherited mainly from the United States. And we cannot avoid a series of difficult, basic de-

If that fact was previously obscure it became clear a few days ago when Mr. Macmillan announced a drastic change in Britain's whole trading policy. Once Britain decided to seek an accommodation with the Common Market of Europe that must involve, according to Mr. Fleming, important effects on Can-Fleming, important effects on Can-ada's exports. Like Britain, we must accommodate ourselves to a new situation—positively by advanc-ing into the main stream of Atlantic trade or negatively by retreating into the Canadian market behind

JERUSALEM:

Splendid And Terrible

By JAMES MORRIS

one crowded hour this morning IN one crowded hour this morning the Jews ended their age without a name. The sad bespectacted symbol of their oppression, Adolf Elchmann, sat almost primly in his glass cage, and in a splendid and terrible moment of his torical satisfaction the Attorney-General of the State of Israel led for the Jews against the world.

It was a moment of triumph and of justification, of drama, and of art; but somehow it was also very sad, tinged not only with the tragedies of the past but with a nagging cruel suggestion of sorrows to come.

Few human beings, perhaps, can ever have played a part so charged with destiny as did Dr. Gideon Hausner this morning, opening the Jewish prosecu-tion against Elehmann: but for myself I am left with a sickening suspicion that when his noble words are rotting in some crumbled library, when the grave dignity of the Jerusalem judges is dignity of the Jerusalem Judges is hardly more than a legend, like the pharos of Alexandria or the fidelity of Penelope, when another thousand years has passed, the Eichmanns will be strutting or fawning still.

The morning began with a ruling by the judges on their competence and on the jurisdiction of the court.

Dr. Servatius, Eichmann's defence unsel, had tactfully submitted the suggestion that one or more members of the court might be unfairly preju-diced, as Jews themselves and as pos-sible relatives of Jews who had suffered

Submissions Rejected

He had also challenged the validity of the retroactive law of 1950, under which Eichmann is charged, and claimed that the nature of Eichmann's abduction from Argentina invalidated any right of the court to try him.

All these submissions the court rejected. On the law and the abduction, said Dr. Landau, the president, its reasoning would be presented with the final judgment, but on the position of the judges themselves he spoke this morning with a memorable and moving restraint.

A judge was still a human being, he said, in curious twisted echo of Shylock's plea. "He is a human being, flesh and blood, with feeling and senses."

and blood, with feeling and senses."

But they were men of law, and the law demanded that these emotions be repressed. The court had carefully examined the arguments and itself, and each of the three judges, "members of the Jewish nation and citizens of Israel," had found himself fit to sit in judgment.

The trial would proceed. The pre-liminaries had ended and we turned once more, Shakespeare still like a thunder in our minds, to that little bureaucrat in the dock Eichmann.

There he sat between his policemen, There he sat between his policemen, unchanging, impassive, characterless, but unforgettable. He never looks afraid, he never looks despairing, he never gives the impression that he may throw himself screaming against the glass walls of his cage or burst into tears, or even pluck our hearts with the agonizing old dilemmas of patriotism

These are some of the major Western disarmament intentions.

These are some of the major items which no doubt will appear on any agenda of Kennedy-de Gaulle talks. Another thing this woman is trying to learn is that when she is depressed, she must not look on herself as ornery, lazy and ungrateful but as "just sick."

She must not yield to the usual tendency of these people to feel that they are terribly sinful. Usually they don't know exactly what these sins are, but they are sure they are sure that God has are awful, and many are sure that God has forsaken them because they are beyond pardoning. This, of course, is not so.

correspondent tells me that psysi cians have tried out on her many of the new drugs which are designed to stimulate the brain, but she says they act on her as liquor acts on some people. Sometimes the drug will make her feel wonderful and then again it will make her feel awful!

IADYSMITH CHRONICLE

One of the problems in smaller communities is the difficulty of developing and raising the standards of cultural life. It is a reasonable assumption that small communities produce just as many talented children as larger communi-ties but there is no doubt that the small town child has less chance to develop his or her talent.

Drought Menaces Prairies

By PHIL ADLER Canadian Press Staff Writer EDMONTON (CP) — Fears

drought are creeping rough the west as farmers prepare the dry prairie soil for another crop. Spring rains—or lack of them—hold the key.

Government and farm offi-cials agree fully on only one point—there is a lack of mois-ture in the soil. Statistics bear this out. Southern Alberta dust storms, lower river levels and drying water dugouts for cattle reinforce the figures.

F. L. Grindley, Alberta director of water resources, said the dry spell of the last two years' indicates that the prairies are in for another drought period — a disaster that last hit the area in the 1930s. Then many farmers stood by helplessly as their grain and cattle lands be came dust bowls.

HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

Are Monocotyledons Special Plants?

In the next few weeks, billions of small miracles will happen all over our land. Countless tiny seeds will sprout secret roots into the soil and push green foliage up into the warm spring air. When the summer sun is high at noon, they paint the gardens and waysides with rain one or two cotyledons. Those to develop its covered seeds and flowers.

There are now about 200,000 members of the Angiospermae plant class. It is subdivided into two subclasses on the basis of the small miracle which is wrapped inside the seed covering. The seed covering may be the big whiskery crust of the coconut or the paper-thin covering of a pea. The miracle of growth is stuffed inside. A few tiny cells will multiply into roots, others into stems and others into leaves. All contain the special magic which will make the plant grow into a new copy of its ancestors.

Those gransses and the grace-full sedges are monocots. So are the tall paims and the dinty duckweeds. The lilies and asparagus, iris, bananas and orchids are also monocots. The single cotyledon does not always act as a nursemaid leaf. It may stay inside the seed and help the sprouting plant to digest and assimilate paper-thin covering of a pea. Its food.

Most monocots have flowers in three sections and leaves with long parallel veins. They do produce much woody tissue and many have hollow stems. They are not, however, classed as monocots on these similarities. A monocotyledon

Those tiny embryo cells are but a small part of the seed is stored in a single pantry.

LONDON (AP) - Anthony Armstrong Jones, the society photographer who married Princess Margaret, is reported to finding it hard to get along with sports-loving Prince Philip, husband of the Queen The London Sunday Dispatch says a state of antipathy exists between the two, whose interests and temperaments are said to be poles apart.

Columnist Frederick Mulially claims the Prince and the nmoner have failed to hit it off since Armstrong-Jones married Margaret nearly a year ago. In fact, Mullally writes, Prince Philip actively resents the presence of Armstrong-Jones in the innermost circles of the Royal Family.

On the surface, both men have appeared cordial to each other. Armstrong-Jones even adopted Philip's habit of clasping his hands behind his back at public functions.

Mullally says Philip betrayed his feelings about Arm-strong-Jones at a luncheon he addressed in London last week. The prince referred in passing to Armstrong as "my brother in-law," and then added quickly: "Well, he isn't really, but you know the chap I mean."

Mullally says the remark was good-humored in tone "but it was delivered with an inflection and an accompanying facial expression that poised the phrase only too narrowly midway between irony and sarcasm."

By dictionary definition, Armstrong-Jones is the Queen's brother in law, not Prince Philip's.

Elsenhower after a sessio Saturday at Camp David, Md., stopped short of full endorsement but made it clear he feels the nation should uphold the president in moments of grave foreign policy crisis.

Administration leaders from Kennedy down clearly were dismayed by the major intelligence errors which kept the United States from vetoing the ill-fated Cuban landing which was so quickly smashed by the forces of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

First of these was a gross underestimation of the compe tence of the Castro troops.
The second, and even graver, miscalculation was the belief that the rebel invasion would touch off mass anti-Castro uprisings on the island.

He told a reporter he is ready to testify that Eichmann approved a plan to let 20,000 Jewish women and children go from Salonika to Palestine in the Nazi days.

The witness was Dr. Salo Wittmayer Baron, professor of Jewish history at Columbia University, in New York City. He said:

"The Nazi movement showed that, even in a highly developed country, it was possible to turn back the clock. The steady development frem 200 years of struggle by the Jews was set back evernight."

The prosecution put Dr. Baron on the stand to delineate the social and political position of the Jews in Europe at the moment when the Nazis came to power, and to show the extent of the damage wreaked between 1933, when Hitler came to power, and 1945, when he committed suicide.

without permanent waving solutions!

As casual as if you were born with it, your hair can be radiant with beautiful curls and waves, in the latest style without permanent waving solutions, without neutralizing, without sprays, lacquers or sticky, flaky gums. In the miracle of one simple application even difficult to curl hair develops entrancing, fascinating waves as natural-looking as maturally wavy hair. Most important, you don't have to put up your hair night after night, yet the wave stays in. Muss up your hair as much as you like, sleepon it, let it blow in the wind... just comb and back into place fall those soft lovely curls and waves still as natural looking as if you were blessed with wavy hair all your like.

And, equally important, your hair gleams radiantly, is so soft, so smooth, so natural to touch. There's none of that 'dried straw' feeling you get after permanents... none of that stickiness of sprays and lacquers... none of that old country 'fixed set' look as you get after wave sets. And, most important of all, your casual curls and waves still look as glamorous the eighth day as they do the first, yet the cost is so fantastically low it's amazing'.

AGING PASSENGER CAR driven to pasture late Saturday joined 70-odd milk cows when it spun off Carey Road and through barbed wire fence at historic Carey Farm, now owned by John Edge, 4125 Carey. Police said driver was Leslie Stevens, 2587 Vancouver, who escaped injury when the car plowed a swath through thick brush and down steep bank. In a similar accident on Patricia Bay Highway near Dieppe, driver Thomas Chan, HMCS Antigonish, rode his car over a grassy verge and hooked a wire fence 20 feet off the highway when he lost control. The B.C. government is seeking applications for $5,000 worth of teacher scholarships, Education Minister Leslie Peterson said today.

He said two or three scholarships worth a total of $5,000 will be awarded to teachers wanting to advance their educational standard.

"We have many fine teachers who completed their full under-graduate qualifications some years ago. They should not always feel that their professional training has come to a complete stop, however," said Mr. Peter-

Applications will be received until May 15. Forms are available from the office of the co-ordinator of

Mr. Peterson added that his department also seeks nominations for honor diplomas which will be awarded in the fall to outstanding classroom teachers in B.C.

New Items for Babies Will Cut Down Mothers' Chores By PENNY SAVER

showers would do well to investigate new items that minimize work for the young mother and help keep baby comfortable and happy. One such item is the blanket holder that sells at 69 cents. No matter how much the infant tosses or turns this little gadget will keep the covers from slipping to the bottom of the crib.

Holder is Canadian-made with two sturdy clamps connected with tapes that should be tied around bed posts and joined under the mattress. Talking to a customer I met this week, she told me that it was one of the wisest purchases she ever made!

she ever made!

New diaper liner that's priced at $1.25 or three for $2.99 is another item that will save Mum many hours of work. Put directly on baby's skin and pinned with regular diaper it will work as a filter, passing wetness from inside, to exterior.

Use of these will keep baby warm, prevent most diaper rashes and eliminate nightly diaper changes. Quality of liner stands up well under repeated washings.

Training pants, costing $1.50, that have an outer easing of tricot, waterproofed with softex lining and inner layer of soft knitted terry cloth will cut down on many problems connected with training a toddler.

They're permanently waterproofed and can be washed by machine. Pants will help youngsters to take a more realistic part in the training program, avoiding much of the tension between mother and child during such months.

BRIDGE LESSON

- By OSWALD JACOBY There used to be a character named "Hard Luck" who made regular appearances in this column.

He was used to repre-sent those bridge players who play well, but not well enough, and who always seem to be followed by hard luck.
Today's South falls

Joe" group. Against ♦62 ♥J ♦Q98542 ♣9542

into the "Hard Luck Joe" group. Against anything but a heart lead he would have no trouble with his spade slam. Against the inspired heart lead he had quite a problem. He thought for some time and finally played the queen from dummy. When it held he paid no attention to the fact no attention to the fact that East had dropped the jack. Instead he simply led a trump.

West took his ace and East ruffed a second heart lead.

If South had really been on his toes he would have gone right up with the ace of hears on the first lead.

Then he would have led a club to his king; cashed his ace of diamonds; ruffed his king of diamonds in dummy and discarded his three remaining hearts on dummy's

Study Starts Soon On Huge Hydro Plan Top Awards

By EDNA ATKINSON

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (Reuters) — Work, is to start this year on an economic study of Rampart Canyon, a proposed site on the Yukon River for What may be come North America's greatest hydroelectric power project.

An eight-man advisory board, comprising personnel from Alaska and the western United States, has been set up and a survey will be made by a recognized firm experienced in the economic analysis of both domestic and foreign markets.

Engineers say the Yukon River can produce more hydroelectric energy than all the rest of Alaska.

Ultimately, it is proposed to build three dams ecross the mighty Yukon. Their combined maximum output of electricity, when in operation, is estimated at 13,000,000 horsepower.

Three strategic spots have been investigated by United States survey teams. While Kaltag, Alaska, at Mile 483 on the Yukon River, and Wood chopper Creek, at Mile 1149, could together have a potential.

Kaltag, Alaska, at Mile 483 on the Yukon River, and Wood Chopper Creek, at Mile 1149, could together have a potential output of 6,700,000 horsepower, it is the site at Bampart Canyon which appears to offer the most immediate promise.

Rampart Canyon is at Mile 756 from the Yukon's mouth. It has a drainage area of about 200,000 square miles; an average annual runoff of 85, files here since 1949, was sentenced to four months in jail

A young paratrooper was killed during sky-diving prac-tice at Kimberley, a farmer died beneath the wheels of his tractor, and five persons met death in automobile accidents on the British Columbia main land during the weekend.

The sky-diver was Charles Garnet Ranger, 22-year-old Kimberley resident making his 35th jump, including a number he made as a member of the United States Army para-troops.

He died Sunday when he plunged 2,500 feet from an air-craft during exercises held by the Kootenay Sky Diving Club.
His main parachute didn't open properly and his reserve 'chute became entangled.
In the Matsqui area, meanwhile, 36-year-old farmer Henry Lurau and properly fell

Henry Unrau apparently fell from his tractor and was run over by a cultivator. His wife found the body after Unrau failed to come home for dinner Saturday

A three or collision Sunday east of Abbotsford on the Trans-Canada Highway, claimed the lives of two persons and injured five others, two of them seriously.

None of the victims was identified.

The accident occurred as one car ran into the rear of another and both vehicles hurtled into the path of a third coming in the opposite direction. Spilled gasoline burst into flames and hindered rescue

Near Lytton Saturday night 21 - year - old constable Ronald Albert Ekstrom was killed as he chased a speeding car on a highway near the Fraser Valley community.

At Salmo, John Clark, 30, was killed Friday night in a one-car accident seven miles south of the Kootenay centre on Highway Six.

Another victim, believed to be from Bonners Ferry, Idaho, died Sunday night at Creston when he lost control of his car on a curve and it left the high-way south of Creston. Two other men in the car escaped with minor injuries.

Trees Planted

KAMLOOPS - A huge tree planting program is under way in the Kamloops Forest District, following last year's severe fires. More than 70,000 young fir and pine trees will be planted in three major dis-tricts here, the department of forests said. About 40,000 have already been planted. Cost of the project was expected to reach $20,000.

Without Aid

VANCOUVER — More than one-quarter of British Colum-bia's population is without medical insurance of any kind. a survey by the provincial medical association has revealed. Details of the report have yet to be tabulated, but offi-cials said here during the weekend it was expected to show 400,000 with insurance and about half of them coverage but can't afford it.

Fisheries Report

VANCOUVER — A fisheries department report says British Columbia in 1960 produced fish and fish products with a market value of $52,300,000.

The figure was $12,100,000 less than the 1959 market value and $46,100,000 below the 1959.

and $46,100,000 below the 1958 record year.
Halibut landings in United States ports and imported tuna canned at plants in the province as well as salmon canned from 1959 frozen stocks had an additional value of $3,000,000, the report said.

The market value decrease may be attributed mainly to a decrease in salmon landings, the lowest in record and the limited herring fishery to Nov.

20 last year.

The report said herring operations resumed in November but the unit prices for mail and oil were down from the Previous year.

Canadian halibut landings were the highest ever recorded, but lower prices provided only a slight increase in the market salmon catch dropped to $36, 000,000 despite higher unit marketing prices for most products, and was lowest since 1949.

The 93,838-ton herring production was the lowest in 10 years and represented only 42 per cent of the 1959 landings.

NEW YORK (AP) President Kennedy's tax program stirred up confro-versy in United States business and financial circles last week.

The president told Congress his aim was to modernize busi-ness and create 500,000 jobs. A lot of businessmen didn't see it that way.

Kennedy proposed, among other things, a special tax in centive for business to modern centive for business to modern ize and expand plants, with holding taxes on dividends and interest, and repeal of special tax treatment given dividends in their depreciation allowance as a means of spurring the rate of plant expansion.

Kennedy contended that while the tax incentive plan would cut tax revenues by $1. 700,000,000 a year, the higher depreciation allowance would cost $3,400,000.

He said his proposal would bring about a big increase in employment in such industries as construction, lumber, steel. cement and machinery.

OPPOSITION SEEN

The proposals on dividende and interest seemed sure to draw widespread opposition from the 15,000,000 U.S. stock owners and others who draw interest on bonds, mortgages and savings.

Mooney Insists 'Keep All Beautiful Clusters'

By JOHN MIKA

Acting Mayor Millard Mooney today came out strongly in favor of retaining all the city's cluster

He opposed a new sys-tem of mercury lighting for the downtown area "be-cause we just can't afford turning night into daylight and keeping the mill rate down too."

Ald. Mooney's move appears likely to checkmate efforts by the pro-mercury faction to remove about 400 clusters downtown and retain about 100 in the Cathedral Hill-Legislative Buildings area.

He was away on civic busi-ess when council voted 5-2 in favor of replacing the clusters with mercury lights at a cost of $200,000, some of which would have to be borrowed.

SHOULD STAY

Mayor Percy Scurrah's adamant opposition to removal of the clusters touched off a tremendous protest by individuals and finally led Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow to announcing he was convinced the clusters should stay.

Ald. Mooney's vote will make it a 4-4 tie (Ald. Arthur Dowell, an avowed cluster light enthusiast, is away on a European tour) when council is asked for specific permis-sion to borrow the money for
